All patients aged was less than 60 years will have low platelet count while those aged more than 60 years were have normal platelet count (figure 4.11). Platelet count was normal in patients with O.V and decreased in all patients with other causes of GI bleeding (figure 4.12).

Figure 4.1 relationship between mean PT in patient and control

Figure 4.2 relationship between mean PTT in patient and control

Figure 4.3 relationship between mean PT and gender

Figure 4.4 relationship between mean APTT and gender

Figure 4.5 relationship between mean PT and age

Table 4.1 relationship between mean APTT and age
Figure 4.6 relationship between mean APTT and age

Figure 4.7 relationship between mean PT and type of disease

Figure 4.8 relationship between mean APTT and type of disease

Figure 4.9 mean platelet count in patient and control

Figure 4.10 relationship between mean platelet count and gender

Figure 4.11 relationship between mean platelet count and age
platelet

figure 4-12 relationship between mean platelet count and type of disease