

A recommendation

The results of this preliminary study showed that there is a positive effect of the botanical extracts applied for termites control. The survey results showed that there is high termites infestation in different areas in Sharjah Emirate. In the light of these high infestation rates, coupled with the high prices of chemical pesticides, this study recommend that further studies on the application of extracts of known plants and of common plants in the area should be carried out for control of termites .and other insect pests as well
