

Abstract

This study is aimed of explanting the importance of cultural implications, which is a resent of community (product, custom) in the understanding of French language, for this notice that the learning of understanding of language is not restricted (confined) in knowing how to create a proper sentence which is grammatically, verbally correct, but it is also culturally .accepted an anted

Because of the importance of these cultural implications and its essential role in understanding the language, it was necessary for us to enlighten the importance of knowing the original community culture of .the French people

This study aims to create a harmonious atmosphere between the tow cultures of Sudan and the France, going together without being overwhelmed by one the other and .them being over whelmed by the other

To achieve these goals, Research the student conduct test pilot for the students of the French Language, Sudan University of Science and Technology, Faculty of Languages, Department of the French language at the fourth level to see how their understanding of the French expressions and communicate via signal is generally accepted in the culture concerned and finally .communication

In the first chapter, the research spread of the French language in Sudan, especially in the universities that have departments of the French language. In the second chapter the researcher reflects the importance of culture in language learning and understanding based on the theory of interaction of cultures and the importance of knowing the words that have cultural source. As for the third quarter, Research analyzed the results came out of the pilot exam