Summary

The aim of this research had introduced how to detect the friendly and non-friendly frequency by using triangle technique in practical and explain how to control three antennas to find the target.

The care of this project concentrates in how the countries protect them selves against enemy.

The project had solved the problem of very expensive software program by used the simple one.