Thesis Questionnaire

In order to prove the" ICT project management in theory and practice" hypotheses which are M.Sc thesis hypotheses,I need to communicate with sections,groups or other individuals in the project, and out side it for information and advice. I'd like to ask you about the ICT project aspects, and the extent to which it enter into your work.

Personal Information:

Company or Institute: …………………………………………………..

Name: …………………………………………………………………….

Possition: …………………………………………………………………

Project: ……………………………………………………………………

No	Statement	Strongly Agree	Agree	Neutral	Disagree	Strongly Disagree
Hypothesis 1: There is gap between the theory of ICT projects management and its practice.
1	Do you have a project plan
2	Is there a gap between project plan and it's execution
3	Is the project manager ensuring that all work in the project is included?
4	Conflict is the common occurrence in the project environment and the project management staff must be skilled in the conflict resolution, Are they?
5	Quality is a performance objective for customer, whereas schedule and cost are performance objectives for the project team.

6	Do you have complete set of project records?
7	Is the project manager do or follow to ensure clear boundaries for project completion?
Hypothesis 2: The stakeholder participation has a positive impact on project and program performance.
8	Do you think the impact of stakeholder participation effects on the success of the project?
9	Is the stakeholder involved in the creation of lessons learned, at closure of project?
10	Anticipating the timetable for financial expenditures during the project is very nearly as important as knowing the total amount to be spent over the life of the project.
11	Their relative importance compared to each other varies from project to project and has to be decided by the stakeholders involved.
12	Power and politics are unavoidable in any projects because stakeholders? Interest and sometimes power will be affected. The only way to balance interests and power among stakeholders is through political process.
13	Adding additional workers to your project will always increase cost, but it will also always increase productivity.

Hypothesis 3: An Organizational Structure addresses the impact (positive or negative) on the project success.
14	Is Organizational development department provides the foundation for team development?
15	Projects do require a co-operation of the line managers both across departments involved and throughout a various levels of the seniority. Is it true?
16	Do you agree project management is an isolated discipline being used by only a few specific industry sectors?
17	The biggest challenge to a project manager is team management
18	A project team should focus on technical deliverables of the project. As long as people get good results from a project, they will not turn to politics to achieve their needs.
19	After a study of the work processes on a project, a quality audit team reports to the project manager that irrelevant quality standards were being used by the project.
20	Some projects are designed to create a service rather than a product.					