Address in full:

Confidential your name, address, telephone number, and the title of books that you have borrowed by authorizing the library to give your name, along with your phone number and/or your email address, to any other Library user who has a need to consult books which you have borrowed. You should be aware of the following:

If someone contacts you to consult a book you have borrowed, the method and location of consultation are your choice and, indeed, you do not have to agree to allow the person access to the book at all.

If you do allow someone else access to the book, responsibility for the book remains yours.

You may change your decision about name release at any time by simply letting staff at the circulation desk know what you wish to do so.

Indicating "Yes" to name release means that the Library may release information in your file. If your response is "Yes", indicate whether we may give out your phone number, your email address, or both. Indicating "No" means that information in your file will remain confidential.
