

ABSTRACT

This study aim to know about the safety procedures when convert the building purpose , and to maintain and achieve safe and secure environment and to keep the pioneers of the institution and surrounding out of dangerous , due to that data had been collected from group of engineers and construction companies .

The study found that 75% sees that there is no specification authority specifications on the safety and security on the working sites there is no any development on security systems on sites, and 72.4 % found that they force to change the walls of the office to suet the specifications and the standards of the offices, and 55% found that should be security cameras on the buildings when convert the purpose from residential to service , 75% found that there is no obligation and law applied on the owner and 69% found that it's a risk to change the purpose of the building .

Recording to this study it recommended to do a special law like in the other country to this situation and take the construction accident on granted, labors should be insured on the stage of selection the contractor (person or company) on tenders. And the study recommended to use the personal safety protect between labors and give them suitable equipment for a work environment , and teach courses to the engineering's and labors to train them about safety systems .