

Abstract

This research gives complete explanation for design the combined footing and isolated footing in accordance with ACI-318 and BS-8110-97 codes with complete procedure for design. This was illustrated by numerical examples and figures.

A program was developed using visual basic to obtain the design for these shallow foundations. Then the results compared with the manual solutions.