

All patients aged less than 60 years will have low platelet count while those aged more than 60 years will have normal platelet count (figure 4.11).

Platelet count was normal in patients with O.V and decreased in all patients with other causes of GI bleeding (figure 4.12).

Figure 4.1 relationship between mean PT in patient and control

Figure 4.2 relationship between mean PTT in patient and control

PT

Figure 4.3 relationship between mean PT and gender

years

APTT

Figure 4.4 relationship between mean APTT and gender

PT

figure 4.5 relationship between mean PT and age

APTT

seconds

1

years

seconds

Figure 4-6 relationship between mean APTT and age

PT

Figure 4.7 relationship between mean PT and type of disease

seconds

APTT

Figure 4.8 relationship between mean APTT and type of disease

disease

platelet

Figure 4.9 mean platelet count in patient and control

seconds

platelet

figure 4.10 relationship between mean platelet count and gender

platelet

Figure 4.11
count and age

disease

relationship between mean platelet

platelet
figure 4-12 relationship between mean platelet count and type of disease