

Appendices

Dear honorable professors and experts :

Good day,

Please tick (✓) the appropriate space. The enclosed is an open questionnaire concerning masters degree thesis entitled:- (Verbs and nouns in English and Arabic-A study in form and function).

You are kindly requested to answer all questions contained in the questionnaire to effectively contribute to the research bearing in mind that your answers will be confidential and be only used for this research purposes.

Your assistance and understanding are appreciated.

The researcher.

No.	The statement	Always	Sometimes	Maybe	I don't think so	Never
1.	we need to understand not only the formal structures of verbs (i.e. their linguistic) but their meaning as well.
2.	The use of the verb depends on its form and type.
3.	The verb has to conform the noun with respect to gender and number
4.	There is criteria upon which we depend in defining the verb.
5.	Students are able to analyze and synthesize different verbs.
6.	The form of the verb affects language competence
7.	The verb's form affects language performance
8.	we communication the meaning we like to convey, through the form of nouns.
9.	the use of the noun depends on its form and type.
10.	there is criteria upon which we depend in defining the noun
11.	The form of the noun affects language competence
12.	Students are able to evaluate and appreciate different nouns
13.	the form of the noun affects language performance

No	The statement	Always	Sometimes	Maybe	I don't think so	Never
14.	The verb's function affect the context
15.	There is a correlated relation between the form and the function of the verb that affects the context of the language
16.	The meanings of the same verbs differ from one context to another with respect to the surrounding linguistic environment
17.	Word stress affects the function and meaning of verbs
18.	Intonation affects the meaning of the verbs
19.	The function of the verb can influence language performance
20.	There is a relation between the form and the function of the noun that affects the context of language
21.	The meanings of nouns change by a mispronunciation.
22.	The meanings of the same noun change from one context to another
23.	Word stress changes the meaning of some nouns
24.	intonation changes the function of nouns
25.	The function of the noun can influence language competence

No.	The statement	Always	Sometimes	Maybe	I don't think so	Never
26.	If words, verbs, nouns and phrases are deprived of their context of situation they become meaningless.
27.	It is not compulsory to be acquainted with grammar in order to communicate amongst individuals.
28.	It is necessary to concentrate on the context rather than the form in the language.
29.	It is necessary to concentrate on the form rather than the context in the language.
30.	Language plays a major role in communication between people and societies
31.	Do you think that the verb and the noun represent the main parts of a sentence?
32.	Choosing the proper synonymy strengthens the utterance or the speech.
33.	Choosing the proper syntax strengthens the speech.
34.	The structure of Arabic language fundamentally related to various functions in different situations.
35.	The function of the noun affects language performance

Experts interview :

- Do the verb form and function affect language performance? And how?
- Do the noun form and function affect language performance? And how?
- Does your choice of noun form or verb form affect the meaning of speech?
- Is speech affected by verb and noun ?
- Does speech change from one form to another with the same verb and noun ?
- Is there any correlation between the verb and noun with respect to the effect on language effectiveness ?